Discovery of a Partially Cremated Body.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

BALTIMORE, Md., June 13.—A singular discovery was made by a couple of boys yesterday in a wood near the Washington road, a few miles from this place. While hunting some stray sheep they came across the dead body of a man, which was almost burned to a crisp in some parts. Nearly all the clothing was burned from the corpse, and the leaves and bushes for several yards around the body were scorched and blackened from fire. Around the neck of the dead man was a scapular, usually worn by Catholics, which had not been injured by the fire, and near the body lay a woman's shawl, partly consumed. It appeared evident that the man had been burned to death, but whether he had sought death through self-cremation or was the victim of some hideous crime remains a mystery. No papers or anything about him could be found to lead to his identity. It was thought at first that the victim was John T. McCaffrey, of this city, but the relatives of the later could not thoroughly identify the remains, although McCaffrey has been missing for a week past. The coroner's jury, after holding an inquest, rendered a verdict of death from causes unknown.

THE REIGN OF TERROR.

Soldiers Insisting on the Deposition of the Khedive--The People Deserting the Country-Burying the Dead.

[By Cable to the Sentinel.]

ALEXANDRIA, June 14.—The soldiers are openly calling for the deposition of the khedive aud declaring they will oppose Turkey herself. Not only women and children are leaving the country, but men with large material interests in Egypt are beginning passages and leaving their property behind. Many large capitalists are arranging to leave Egypt permanently, not in the panic, but after calamly calculating the cost of such a step.

HONORING THE DEAD.

ALEXANDRIA, June 14.—The bodies of the engineer of the English ironclad, Superb, and six men, of the Helicon, killed in the riot Sunday, have been buried at sea, as it was deemed imprudent to risk the danger that might have arisen from the funeral on shore. As the barge containing the bodies passed the United States steamer Galena, the marines fired a salute and all on board uncovered their heads.

ADVISED TO QUIT THE COUNTRY.

A London correspondent of the Times at Cairo, states that the English consul general desires the British residents to quit Egypt without an official request, which might produce a panic. He might remain a few days to reassure public feeling.

Fearful Rain Storm--A Party Precipitated Into a Stream.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

INDIANAPOLIS, June, 14.—We were visited by the severest thunder storm of the season last night. Rain fell all night, and at times in sheets. Two inches of water fell up to 7 this morning. Pognes run commenced rising rapidly and in twelve hours had flooded that portion of the city east of the Union depot along the Union railroad tracks, northeast, up Pennsylvania, Delaware and Alabama streets, as far north as Maryland and northeast to Washington streets. The cellars of the wholesale houses on South Meredian street south of Georgia avenue are rapidly filling up. While a party of fifteen or twenty were standing on a platform, over Pognes run, connected to the old ware house belonging to the Union Railroad company, it gave way precipitating the entire crowd into the water. Some of them were rescued, others passed through the culvert, under Union depot and were rescued below, while others it is supposed were drowned. It is not definitely known how many were on the platform or who they were, consequently it is impossible at this time to determine how many were lost.

The Strike at Cleveland--Taking Precautions.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

CLEVELAND, June 14.—One hundred more men went to work in the Cleveland rolling mills to-day than yesterday. The Bohemeans who were stoned last evening returned this morning, but were not molested. No disturbance occurred. Skilled workmen arrive daily; some from England, and are employed. Prest. Chisholm says he has letters every day from old employes not in the union, who wish to go back, but are afraid. Mayor Herrick, this morning, who conferred privately with the commandant of the infantry and artillery companies, says that hitherto the police have been on the defensive, but since last night's riotous demonstration, more vigorous measures will be adopted to prevent violence.

Fatal and Bloody Encounter Between Uncle and Nephew.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

LOUISVILLE, June 14.—A special from Mt. Vernon, Ky., says: "A serious difficulty, with probable fatal results occurred near Bradley's Mills, on Stegg creek, in this county to-day. William Cramer and Silas Cramer, uncle and nephew, engaged in a desperate struggle. Silas Cramer drew a large knife and inflicted a terrible wound in his uncle's throat, cutting [illegible] pletely severing the windpipe. After recovering from the wound, William seized a rock and struck Silas in the head, breaking his skull and knocking him senseless. Blood gushed in profusion from Silas' mouth, eyes, nose and ears, but William, who was likewise covered with blood, struck the prostrate man with another rock. Silas will die."

Conley's Body Recovered.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

CHESTERFIELD, N. H., June 14.—The body of George R. Conley, operatic singer, was found in Spofford lake this morning. The remains will be sent to New York.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

CHICAGO, June 14.—A Winnepeg special says that Hanlan has asked Ross to postpone the race two weeks. Ross refuses to remain under training so long, and fixes July 3. It is believed here that Hanlan's illness is a scheme to affect betting.

Small Pox Prevalent.

[By Telegraph to the Sentinel.]

SALEM, Dak., June 14.—Six cases of small pox have broken out at Bridgewater, a town on one of the Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad extensions. The settlers have quarantined against Bridgewater. No trains stop at the infected town and no mail is taken there.

In conversation with a SENTINEL reporter, one of the oldest and most respected democrats in the city, this morning, said: "I desire to commend the bold and manly course THE SENTINEL has pursued in the present political struggle, and its denunciation of incompetent and untrustworthy persons, because this is an important year, and only the greatest care and the selection of the best men in the party will insure the success of the county, senatorial, congressional and state tickets. This is not a time to trifle with the people, and democrats must understand it."

A Suit Against Bishop Dwenger.

The case of Hugh Brangan vs. Joseph Dwenger, bishop of Fort Wayne diocese, came up for a hearing in the circuit court at Lafayette on yesterday morning. This case was brought in there on a change of venue from Boone county and involves the Catholic church property at Lebanon. It seems that all the church property of each diocese is vested in the bishop of that diocese. When the property in litigation was bought some years since, the bishop gave Father Ryan, who acted as the agent in the transaction, $600 to be applied upon the property, and since then the bishop himself made two payments. The property was at once transferred to the bishop, but Father Ryan, who seems to have been a black shepherd, borrowed money from Branagan, ostensably for the purpose of paying on this property, but this is denied by the bishop, who states that he knows nothing of such transaction, and denies Ryan's authority for borrowing the money for the church, or making the church responsible for the same.

A Word in Regard to Self-styled Manufacturers.

It is common to read in almost any clothing advertisement, no matter how diminutive the dealer, the statement that he is a manufacturer, or his stock is made to his order, and therefore he is able to retail at wholesale prices.

Small manufacturers, except in specialties, have long since been crowded from the field. There is but one class of wholesale manufacturers in this country to-day, and they are the closs of this age. Their establishments represent fortunes in their equipments. Wholesale manufacturers, in this age of progress, to compete with each other, must be supplied with all the machinery of the present time—steam cutters, steam spongers, steam pressing machines, steam sewing and steam button-hole machines. This represents a fortune in itself. It then requires a small army to feed this vast mechanism, furnishing annual employment to thousands of operatives, to which annex the capital necessary to completely stock with material and fabric, oftentimes consuming the entire product of extensive woolen mills, and you have the reason why a small manufacturer cannot compete, except on paper, with those mammoth firms that have raised the standard of ready made clothing from its crude and imperfect make up of a dozen years ago.

Our factory at Utica contains every economy and labor saving invention of the age, which could not be maintained except by vast outlet throughout almost every Northern State, facilities which small dealers do not possess, and without which they cannot compete. We boldly make the assertion that there is no clothing manufacturer in this city except that of OWEN, PIXLEY & Co.

It is very difficult, in fact impossible, to give accurate descriptions of clothing except in a general way, which is much like describing how a certain article of food tastes. It cannot be done satisfactorily. The food must be tasted, and the garment must be seen, to be fully appreciated. In this column we give, in round numbers, the number of suits upon our counters in the various departments, a greater number, probably, than can be found in any half dozen competitive stores in the city. The question of variety from which to make a selection is so important that no argument is needed to convince any one that those large stores where the greatest varieties are exhibited are the best places to make purchases. These great varieties mean vast combinations in colorings, designs and shapes. Add to this the fact that we manufacture all our clothing, and retail strictly at New York jobbing prices, and you have the argument why you should visit OWEN, PIXLEY & Co for your clothing. Come in, and afterward form your own conclusion from personal inspection.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council:

Gentlemen—I respectfully submit the following report:

1. I have carefully examined the official bonds of the late elected City officers and find them all correct and sufficient, but I find that some of the police give bonds for $1,000 and a large number for $500 each.

2. I have carefully examined the matter of the petition of Mr. Benjamin for damages suffered by him by reason of injuries sustained in falling upon a defective sidewalk. He has consented to accept $30 in full of all claims up to date. He submitted his affidavit as to injuries and loss of time, and he also delivered to me a certificate of Dr. Thayer to the extent of the injuries, and I respectfully recommend that he be allowed $30 upon his receipting in full of all claims against the City up to date.

3. In the matter of the claim of Mrs. Margaretta Stettner, for injuries received by falling upon a defective sidewalk on High street in May last, I report that I have carefully examined her case and I find it a meritorious one. The sidewalk is in a bad condition by reason of the planks getting loose and liable when stepped upon to fly up, it becomes more dangerous because it looks safe, when it is not. I interviewed a dozen of witnesses who testified to the justice of the petitioner's claim. I believe inasmuch as her arm was broken, that her claim for $50 is modest and would recommend its payment upon her receipting to the City Clerk in full of all demands against the City up to date.

4. In connection with the last two cases I would draw the attention of the Council to the fact that as long as the City allows the old plank sidewalks to be out of repair, she must expect to face just such demands, if not much greater ones, The law affords a remedy for just such trouble and it is our ordinance on the subject of sidewalks.

5. I find the bill of Recorder Mommer of $6 in the Taylor case correct.

HENRY COLERICK,
City Attorney.

First section, bonds ordered to be made out for $1,000; second, concurred in and City Attorney instructed to institute proceedings to collect the same; third, concurred in and City Attorney instructed to institute proceedings to collect the same; fourth and fifth, concurred in.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council:

I have appointed Mr. John G. Lehr my deputy to collect the city taxes delinquent on duplicate of 1881, and the work being more than one man can do in the time it should be done, I have arranged that Elijah Barton shall assist said deputy.

I respectfully ask your concurrence in this appointment and arrangement.

Gentlemen—I wish to call your attention to the dangerous condition of the fire cistern on the corner of Bass and Prince streets. I had the same barricaded some four weeks ago and would ask Your Honorable Body to give me further instructions. Respectfully submitted,

Referred to Committee on Fire Department with power to act.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council:

Gentlemen—I respectfully report that I have this day paid over to the City Treasurer $107 30, amount collected to date from rent of stalls and 10 cent collections.

WILLIAM HENZE,
Market Master.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

To the Honorable Mayor and Common Council:

Gentlemen—As you are aware, the various extensions ordered by you are now in progress, we desire to state that it will be impracticable to finish the West Water street extension properly without using twelve inch pipe on a portion of the line so as to be prepared for finishing the proposed auxiliary main to Bloomingdale. We recommend this matter to your immediate attention, as the laying of the twelve inch pipe has not been contracted for.

We also think it would be well for the Council to take action at this time on the Seventh Ward extension, as several parties have called at this office to request that the pipe be changed from Samuel street to some other street where there are more inhabitants. We trust that the line on which this extension shall run will be determined by Your Honorable Body at this time, as it is the intention to have it completed before the next meeting of the Council. Respectfully,

CHRISTIAN BOSEKER,
JAMES BREEN

Delicate Females.

The exactions of society, added to the cares of maternity and the household, have tested beyond endurance the frail constitutions which have been granted the majority of women. To combat this tendency to premature decline, no remedy in the world possesses the nourishing and strengthening properties of malt bitters. They enrich the blood, perfect digestion, stimulate the liver and kidneys, arrest ulcerative weaknesses, and purify, and vitalize every function of the female system.

In the poorest dictionary lie many poems entombed, or, rather, stored up like corn in a bin.

To Tourists and Travelers.

A mechanic never goes to work without his tools. Neither should you start on a journey without being fully equipped by always having a bottle of Pond's Extract in your knapsack. In cases of accident, dislocated joints, over straining, etc., when you are probably far from medical assistance, the importance of having it at hand cannot be over-estimated. Pedestrians, oarsmen, baseballers, cricketers, gymnasts, and all athletes will find it a true friend. For relieving and curing sprains, bruises, foot-soreness, chafings, swellings, varicose veins, insect bites and stings it is simply invaluable.

Hon. Robert Lowry has been invited to deliver the Fourth of July oration at Pleasant Lake, Steuben county. He replied to-day to the cordial invitation of Mr. C. F. Ball, chairman of the committee, accepting the honor conferred on him. Undoubtedly Judge Lowry's address will be a fine piece of oratory.

The ordinance passed last night relating to the occupancy of the market house stalls by those who bid the highest seems to us an excellent one. Under the new order of things there will be a show for the country butchers to dispose of their meat. The competition thus engendered will of necessity cheapen prices and the working class will be benefitted.

Lagrange Democrat: "Judge Robert Lowry, of Fort Wayne, made our city a brief visit last evening, and of course favored this office with a pleasant call. The judge states that he has all confidence in the fair minded democracy of Lagrange county, that it will accord to him in the present contest for congressional honors the same hearty support she has ever given the nominees on the democratic congressional tickets of the past. We can assure the judge that the democracy of Lagrange will buckle on the democratic helmet and do battle for the right as she has ever done, but she desires to say that it is right."

AN ATHLETIC AMAZON.

Mrs. Catharine Bowser, of Francis Street, Castigates Her Drunken Husband.

John Bowser lives with his wife and family on Francis street in the rear of a frame house. When sober it is said he works at digging sewers and other jobs of the kind. Generally, however, he is drunk, and when well bowled up he is a howler. For a couple of weeks he has bobbed up at his squalid home at intervals of two or three days and demanded something to eat. Mrs. Bowser has had hard enough work to grub along and procure provisions for herself and three children. Naturally she felt incensed at the drunken brute who, having spent all his earnings for booze, came around yesterday to eat the bread which belonged to his children and for which he had not paid. So Mrs. Bowser energetically told her sot of a husband to get out. He didn't go however, but raided the pantry and vigorously devoured the food he found there and which Mrs. Bowser had reserved for the dinner of herself and children. She waited quietly until he had eaten his fill and came staggering out to seek his bed and sleep off his drunkenness. As he issued from the pantry, Bowser felt something hard strike him and he went to the floor very suddenly. Then the angry face of his spouse shone redly over his prostrate form, and with a huge cudgel in her by no means delicate hands, she belabored the poor devil until he was bruised and bleeding from head to foot.

His howls of pain were heard by a neighbor, who rushed in and quieted the excited wife, and delivered from her avenging hands poor Bowser, who staggered off quite crushed. He did not come home last night, and his wife said sententiously to a female neighbor: "I guess the drunken dog got a drubbing that will keep him away from me until he can behave himself."

OUR NEXT CONGRESSMAN.

A Patriotic and Popular Platform---Luminous, Logical and Eminently Democratic.

The following platform, formulated by Judge Lowry in 1874, we find embodied in the call for the congressional convention of that year, as published in THE SENTINEL at the time. As he is no demagogue, but in storm and tempest as well as in peace and sunshine, has always stood true to his convictions, we have no doubt the judge still adheres firmly to the views therein enunciated. In every way fully up to the democratic standard, we shall be surprised to see even in any platform expressly gotten up for that purpose a statement of principles as clearly in harmony with the wants and wishes of the masses. Admirably opportune in 1874, it is equally sound in 1882:

1. The times at length demand it, and the people are now determined to have, an actual and effective voice in the management of their own affairs.

2. Existing unjust and partial systems of taxation they mean to have supplanted by those more wise and equal.

3. The country demands a stable and uniform currency, freed from future tampering by the legislative power, thus securing relief from unsteadiness of values, while adapted to meet the demands of business, and sufficient in volume to supply the wants of all sections of the country.

4. Assumption of undue powers by organized capital, in the form of corporations, it is proposed shall be carefully guarded against, and those who control them compelled, when necessary, to make due observance of the rights of the people—from whom such bodies derive all their rightful franchises and authority.

5. The true relations between capital and labor require to be more exactly ascertained and adjusted, in such manner as that there shall be no discrimination against the real source of all material prosperity—Labor.

6. Some of the states of the union cry aloud to be relieved from the thraldom of domestic misrule to which they are compelled to submit by the arbitrary assumption of usurped power elsewhere, and must have not only sympathy but succor.

7. Strict accountability and vigilant discharge of duty on the part of those intrusted with the collection of public monies, and the most rigid economy in their expenditure, are changes in official life for which there is the most urgent need.

8. Subsidies to pampered schemes for the enrichment of a favored few at expense of the struggling many, is a flagrant vice which must be effectually extirpated.

9. The building up of overshadowing and long continued monopolies in inventions, whereby oppressive burdens are imposed on the industrial arts, requires speedy correction, and the substitution therefor of rates of compensation which, while liberal to inventors, will be just to all.

10. Salary grabs, and their equivalents, as well on the part of Presidents and Members of Congress as of all others, should be made a future impossibility.

11. Corruption, in all its multiplied forms, must be suppressed, and, in the administration, not only of National, but of State and Home affairs, leeches who have sucked voraciously at the treasury of the people should be choked off, and an era of greater simplicity, economy, and honesty, be reinaugurated.

Standing by our integrity in support of these, and other needed reforms, we will have the support of many good men without regard to party affiliations—indeed of all real well-wishers of their country.

Drs. Frothnigham and Kingsley of the Grand Rapids English Medical and Surgical Institute, 65 Monroe street have arrived in our city and have established a branch at 34 West Main street, Aufrecht's block, Fort Wayne, where our many citizens now under their treatment can consult with them; also any who may wish can obtain the benefit of their accurate diagnosis of their diseases without questions and free of charge, thus giving every one the privilege of their unprecedented experience in their specialty, without the heretofore long journey to their Institute in Grand Rapids. For the past three years so frequent and imperative have the demands that they should personally visit their many patients in our city, and Northern Indiana, that they have at last consented, and will charge nothing for all those coming under their treatment the first 20 days. Drs. F & K. astonish all by the accuracy of their diagnosis, which amount almost to intuition; they locate every ache and pain; explain how and why the disease or ailment was contracted, and demonstrate how it can be eradicated and in what length of time; these facts are said by their patients to be marvelous. The question is now, "can we be cured?" Drs. F. & K. take no cases pronounced by them incurable, but so state the case to the patient. They have no time for experiments; their time is all occupied treating those they can cure.

A thousand testimonials from Grand Rapids can be seen at their office, some of which we would print had we room.

Frank Waterman's Funeral.

Yesterday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the funeral of the late Frank E. Waterman, killed at Danville, Ills., occurred from the residence of his parents and the First Baptist church, which was crowded. Rev. D. W. Moffatt, D. D., officiated, and a choir consisting of Miss Belle McDonald, Mrs. H. N. Goodwin, S. R. Taylor and Prof. T. M. Carter furnished the music. The members of the Golden Eagle base ball club officiated as pall bearers and escort, and the Wabash shop men attended in a body. The floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful, the base ball club furnishing a pillow and the Wabash boys a cross and wreath.

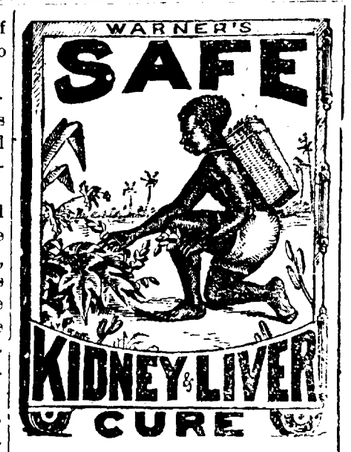
A long procession followed poor Waterman's remains to Lindenwood, where they rest until the final trump.

Yesterday evening, a young man named Charles Fond, found in a stall at the fair grounds, a kit of burglar's tools, consisting of two "jimmies," a chisel, saw and wrench. The young man took the tools to his house in Nebraska.

A Sad Fact.

There is no cure for consumption, and yet consumption of lungs, liver or kidneys may be checked and the decay arrested by using Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. It strengthens every organ of life and restores all lost or impaired organic functions to their normal condition. A single bottle will convince you of its great merit.

Mr. Clemens Knowlton, of Falmouth Ky., writes: "I was quite an invalid, afflicted with a complication of diseases that showed a tendency to weaken and exhaust my brain and nervous system. I found myself quickly cured by using a bottle of Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. It has given perfect tone and real strength to every part of my body, and my blood is free from all impurity."



Disease is an effect, not a cure. Its origin is within; its manifestations without. Hence, to cure the disease the cause must be removed, and in no other way can a cure be effected. WARNER'S SAFE KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE is established on just this principle. It realizes that of all diseases arise from deranged kidneys and liver, and it strikes at once at the root of the difficulty. The elements of which it is composed act directly upon these great organs, both as a food and a restorer, and, by placing them in a healthy condition, drive diseasese and pain from the system.

For the innumerable troubles caused by unhealthy Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs; for the distressing disorders of Women; for Malaria, and for physical derangements generally, this great remedy has no equal Beware of imposters, imitations and concoctions said to be just as good.

The Bad and Worthless

are never imitated or counterfeited. This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value. As soon as it had been tested and proved by the whole world that Hop Bitters was the purest, best and most valuable family medicine on earth, many imitations sprung up and began to steal the notices in which the press and people of the country had expressed the merits of H. B. and in every way trying to induce suffering invalids to use their stuff instead, expecting to make money on the credit and and good name of H. B. Many others started nostrums put up in similar style to H. B., with variously devised names in which the word "Hop" or "Hops" were used in a way to induce people to believe they were the same as Hop Bitters. All such pretended remedies or cures, no matter what their style or name is, and especially those with the word "Hop" or "Hops" in their name or in any way connected with them or their name, are imitations or counterfeits. Beware of them. To ch none of them. Use nothing but genuine Hop Bitters, with a bunch or cluster of green Hops on the white label. Trust nothing else. Druggists and dealers are warned against dealing in imitations or counterfeits.

PRESS REPORTS.

An Open Letter From Otto J. Doesburg, Proprietor "Holland City News," Holland City, Michigan.

It is with no small degree of satisfaction that I express myself as to the magical pain-killing and healing properties of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. A bad cold settled in my side and back which affected my kidneys, and with rheumatism combined, I was suffering terrible pains. I tried remedies and our local doctors with but little relief. As a "forlorn hope" I tried Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and have used only half a 50-cent bottle and feel as well as ever I did in my life.

J. DOESBURG.

PREJUDICE OF THE PRESS OVERCOME.

For fifteen or twenty years I have been troubled with that terrible disease, catarrh; had lost my sense of smell and taste; also my sight and hearing were failing fast. Tried scores of advertised remedies, with no success, and finally resolved to overcome my prejudice and make one more trial, which I did with Thomas' Eclectric Oil. After using part of the first bottle I began to feel better, and the improvement rapidly increased, and now I consider myself nearly as well as ever. O. M. HOLCOMB.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14.

SHE GOT EVEN.

Mrs. J. W. Hall, a Grass Widow, Seeks Solace By Skipping With Another Switchman.

Some time since THE SENTINEL referred to the elopement of a Pittsburg switchman named J. W. Hall, with the widow of Ed. Christman, another employe of the road, killed a few months since in an accident. The parties have not since been heard of. For a time, Mrs. Hall left behind, figuratively donned the habiliments of woe, and loudly bemoaned the desertion of her faithless spouse. Indeed, she used to climb the stairs to THE SENTINEL sanctum and piteously relate her troubles to the sympathetic city editor. Had Mrs. Hall been a better looking female and the rest of the staff conveniently retired, we might have asked the weeping woman to recline her head on the editorial bosom and as she painted her woes, tried to soothe her in the insinuating way known only to the newspaper profession. However, Mrs. Hall was plain, very, and our coadjutors, with a wretched sense of the fitness of things, hung around and "piped" the situation.

Mrs. Hall was offered a home at the residence of Mrs. Tony Kelker and soon recovered her spirits, doffed her weeds, rubbed her eyes and philosophically resolved to catch on to some other fellow which she did a few weeks ago in the person of one Depew, also a Pittsburg switchman, burdened with a wife and offspring. Together they jumped out a week or so ago to some Michigan town.

The Pittsburg authorities at this point a day or two since received a request for information as to Depew's whereabouts when the story as above related came out. He is given a character not at all enviable.

FRUIT HOUSE.

NAPOLEON'S WEIRD SISTER.

A Prophet Who Foresaw the Emperor's Success and His Failure.

One day when Prince Louis Napoleon was president of the French republican an elderly sewing woman, one Angelique Beltoise, homely, unlettered, silent and solitary in her habits, and with apparently no thought beyond her daily drudgery, presented herself before her employers, her face glowing as if it had been transfigured. During the night, she said, she had been visited by a being radiant with light and beauty, which had imperiously bidden her rise and write certain verses from its dictation. "I obeyed and here they are," she said, showing four pages of paper, on which, in a hand infinitely superior to her own scrawl, but yet resembling it, were written verses, not up to Hugo's standard, perhaps, but far beyond her capacity or education. Her friends endeavored to ridicule or soothe her out of her belief, but in vain, and she insisted on selling what few possessions she had in order to have her verses copied and richly bound. After having presented herself at the Elysee several times and being refused admission, she sent the volume to the prince president through the mail. "When Louis has read it," she said, confidently, "he will send for me." Sure enough, after some time came a messenger desiring her attendance at the Elysee. Thither she went and was received by M. Mocquard, who questioned her, and taking her for a crazy woman, declined to let her see the prince, but offered her money. This she declined, only professing her anxiety to be informed that the verses had really reached Louis Napoleon. This assurance being given, she said with satisfaction, "Very well! Then he knows his future—I can die!" Nor did she long survive the event. The verses contained a prediction that Napoleon would become emperor and marry a foreigner, by whom he should have one son, and added that the immense power to which he was to attain would crumble in a catastrophe as great, which he and his son were not long to survive.

All's Well That Ends Well.

"All's well that ends well" would be a very appropriate title for a romance in real life which ended happily in Paris on Saturday. The son of a rich man residing in the Faubourg St. Germain had fallen desperately in love with a pretty, amiable, but dowerless girl. The course of true love ran smoothly enough so long as the young man's father was not aware of what was going forward; but when his consent to the marriage was asked he flatly refused to give it. A last meeting took place, vows of eternal constancy were interchanged, and the lovers separated. The young lady, deeply affected by the parting, took the rash determination to drown herself and her sorrows in the Seine, and about twilight on Saturday she carried out her intention. A gentleman walking along the quays at the time saw her struggling in the water, and, without a moment's hesitation, plunged in to the rescue. The would-be suicide was saved, but the most curious part of the story is that the gentleman who saved her chanced to be the father of the man she loved. The denouement of the affair can be easily guessed. The stern parent's inflexible resolution to refuse his consent to the union gave way under the emotion he felt at the drowning accident. He conveyed the poor girl home, sent for his son, told the delighted young people that they were free to take each other for better or worse, and that the wedding might take place as soon as the young lady had recovered from the effects of her immersion in the river.—Edinburgh Courant.
